New York, Nov 30 .-- Mr. Greeley died at ten minutes to seven last evening, aged sixty-one years, nine months and twentysix days. THE WATCHERS.

At six o'clock there were watchers around the bedside of Mr. Greeley-Ed-Lampson, an old friend; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart, Whitelaw Reid and Ida Greeley. wearing the old smile. HIS LAST WORDS.

The last words he spoke on earth were, WHO REMAINED WITH THE BODY.

Of those that were in the house at the death scene, only Miss Ida, Miss Lampson, Mr. Carpenter, and the family whose guest he was, remained to watch over the lilustrious dead. The others departed shortly after the spirit had left the body. HIS LAST MOMENTS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 .- Accounts published of Mr. Greeley's last moments represent him to have been unconscious during the day. As is usual in cases of inflammation of the brain, his physical suffering was extremely slight, and morbid ac- ceived a dispatch announcing the alarmtion of the mind was evident from exterior ing condition of the deceased, and an hour manifestations.

At half-past six he stirred unessily and began to mutter indistinctly something which the friends around him could not and the chamber of commerce will also catch. His daughter Ida, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. Carpenter, Dr. Choate and Auntie Lawson were in the room anxious | demonstration of mourning on the part of to hear his last words. Mr. Greeley indistinctly murmured for a while, and at the funeral. last feebly said: "It is done." There was no evidence of pain in the last moments. The face hardly changed, only settling a little into a look of perfect peace. Dr. Choate was by the bedside, and putting his hand to Mr. Greeley's heart said : "He is gone.

THE REMAINS.

The remains were dressed and laid to await removal in the parlor, while a few friends remained to watch through the night beside him. His remains will be at Mr. Choate's house to-day, and to-morrow night will probably be brought to this

HIS BURIAL.

The present intention is to bury him from Dr. Chapin's Church on Tuesday; but the programme may be changed to suit the desires of such public bodies as propose to take part in the ceremony. THE CAUSE OF HIS ILLNESS.

NRW YORK, Nov. 30 .- In an account narrating at length the closing days of the late Mr. Greeley, he is said, during his western tour, to have never slept over tour hours at a time, and through the day he would often doze in the car and catch snatches of sleep. Upon his return to New York, his wife was found to be rapidly failing, and it was while passing sleepless nights at her bedside that he first began to show signs of great mental depression. On one occasion while the opposition press was criticising his Pittsburg speech, he said: "If they make the issue that I am a Rebel candidate, I am bound to be defeated. This consideration seemed to weigh on his mind. Often when he supposed he was alone he would put his hands to his head and cry out, "Oh," as though suffering intense pain. At length when his wife died he began to show manifestations of great grief, and it was then he is said to bave shown the first positive evidences of

HIS FAMOUS CARD. One day after printing his famous editorial card, an editorial article appeared in the Tribune which was headed "Con-

One day later while in conversation with a friend he became visibly affected and said (touching a remark as to his candidature) "I don't care for policies and wouldn't go on the cars to Washington to get the commission as president. NEW YORK, Nov. 30 .- On November 15 Mr. Greeley was at his home in Chappaqua, and prominent Liberal Republicans from Connecticut visited him and found him in very broken health. A conversation was had in regard to the campaign, but Mr. Greeley manifested unconcern on the sulject, and to an inquiry whether under the circumstances it would be better for the Liberal Republican committees to take steps at once toward the maintainance and consolidation of their organiza. tions or remain quiet for the turn of THE FUNERAL TO TAKE PLACE events, he very promptly replied : 'bet-ON TUESDAY. events, he very promptly replied : 'bet-ter keep quiet' but beyond this there was ter keep quiet but beyond this there was nothing to indicate that he felt any inter-

RESTLESS AND HAGGARD.

About this time he seemed restless and haggard in appearance. His family physician recognized his condition, and at once resorted to the most energetic treatment, At first it seemed as though the malady would yield. Medical treatment however, proved inefficient. On November 20, it was decided to remove him to the residence of Dr. Chost, near Piessantville. His removal presented a very affeeting scene to those who witnessed the shedding of tears. Thenceforward developments of his disease gradually continued to the end.
